The Times

City Brevities.

A passenger elevator is being put in at the Garfield Hospital building. It is an addition that has long been needed there.

A number of workmen are at work repairing the holes on the side of the car tracks on G street, between Seventh and Ninth streets northwest.

A joint meeting of the Knights of Labor, Bakers and Drivers' Assembly was held last evening at Dime's Hall. Only three members were present.

A Republican ratification meeting was held at Brooker's Park, corner of Thirteenth and D streets southeast last night, by order of the Maryland and District Republican clubs.

The Eastern Conference of the Lutheran Synod of Maryland, which was in session yesterday at the Church of the Redeemer, concluded its labors and adjourned last evening.

A dangerous hole at Seventh street and Florida avenue was reported to the central bureau this morning by the Eighth precinct. It was caused by an explosion in one of the electric conduits.

Ex-Attorney General Garland, who has been at Garfield Hospital for two weeks, having a sprained ankle treated, now hopes around the room easily, and expects to be out again in a few days.

Mrs. J. W. Powell, of No. 319 E street northeast, fell from her wheel on Capitol Hill last night and broke one of her legs. She was removed to Providence Hospital, where the fracture was reduced.

Mr. D. P. Wright, late of the Pennsylvania Railroad, will leave for Honduras, Central America, in the employ of the New York syndicate who have recently acquired valuable concessions from that government.

General Secretary-Treasurer John W. Hayes and Andrew Best, members of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, will return from Louisville, Ky., tomorrow. It is also expected that the other general officers of the order will accompany them to this city.

Captain Carr has decided that no inquiry is necessary as to the cause of the accident supposed to be William Jones, whose dead body was found floating in the river near the Pennsylvania Avenue Bridge last Saturday night.

Henry Wynn, charged with breaking in the stable of William Farquhar, at No. 1320 W street northwest, and stealing a set of harness, was today held by Judge Kimball for the action of the grand jury.

Police Detective Robert Watson returned to duty today after a two weeks' vacation spent in the mountains of Virginia. He reports hunting unusually good, and says it promises to improve as the winter progresses.

Rose Craig, colored, was sent to the workhouse for ninety days today for vagrancy. She is a large bustling woman, and did not look like a "vag," but she has, nevertheless, been sent "down" many times on the same charge.

The vestry of the Church of the Epiphany, at a meeting held after last Sunday morning's service, adopted resolutions of respect for the late M. W. Beveridge, who had been for twenty years their greatly esteemed associate vestryman.

A horse attached to an express wagon belonging to John Woods, colored, ran away from N. front of No. 2051 Thirty-fifth street northwest last night and collided with a lamp post near the corner, breaking its hind legs and killing the horse. No one was injured.
